Dublin, Sept. 09, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- The "Industrial Robotics Market 2021-2025" report has been added to ResearchAndMarkets.com's offering. The market for industrial robotics in the electrical and electronics industry is probably the one most affected by the China-US trade crisis as Asian countries (e.g., China, Japan, Republic of Korea) are leaders in manufacturing electronic products and components. The number is still growing, and the duration of the pandemic is still difficult to predict. Globally the death toll has surpassed 3,803,257, according to the latest statistics from the Worldometers (as of June 12, 2021). Key Topics Covered: 1. Impact of Coronavirus (COVID-19) Pandemic on Industrial Robotics Market 3. Executive Summary 2. Impact of COVID-19 on Industrial Robotics Market The COVID-19 outbreak has become a global stress test. Industrial Robotics Market - Segment Analysis On the basis of segment, the automotive industry accounted for highest share of the industrial robotics market. Global Industrial Robotics Volume and Forecast - By Region and Country Wise Distribution (2010 - 2025) 7. The global industrial robotics market was valued at around US$ 10.6 Billion in 2020. Both unit shipment and the sales revenue are expected to enjoy handsome growth over the forecast period. However, the demand for industrial robotics is anticipated to grow exponentially during the forecast period driven by advantages such as cost reduction, improved quality, increased production, and improved workplace health and safety. The COVID-19 disease has infected more than 176 Million people worldwide. The market for industrial robots is hampered due to their reliance on the automotive and electrical/electronic industries, which was affected the most due to COVID-19 pandemic. Following a slowdown in global demand of industrial robots due to the COVID-19 pandemic, it is expected that the major industrial robot vendors will start receiving orders from 2021 onwards. The five major markets including China, Japan, the United States, the Republic of Korea, and Germany accounts for around 74% of the total robotics sales volume in 2020. As the number of people infected with the virus continues to rise around the world, uncertainties about global economic growth increases. Chemical, rubber and plastics industry is the fourth largest market for industrial robotics market, while food industry accounted for least share of the global industrial robotics market.
